

Prayer Diary

November 2021

Broken Angel

I'm often asked to write the prayer diary for November - it's a significant month for us, as year by year we mark the Coventry Blitz of November 1940. This year, in our City of Culture programme, we are marking it with the Broken Angel installation into the Cathedral's West Screen window.

You may remember that in January 2020, one of John Hutton's angel's was smashed to pieces by vandals breaking in at the dead of night. Although their hooded images were caught on CCTV, we never identified the culprits. We were just left with the shattered glass, and the haunting echo of the sound of it ringing round the empty building recorded by the security systems.

Our first reaction was to catch, shame, punish the perpetrators. On reflection, we drew deeply on the Cathedral's own history, of responding with creativity, hope and imagination to our loss. Our whole building is an expression of identification with Jesus' crucifixion, in the ruins, and resurrection, in the glories of the new Cathedral - which we would never have enjoyed, had it not been for the dreadful events of November 1940.

So, we invited three artists to respond to the opportunity of the empty window in a way that did not disguise what we had lost, but made the most of the creative opportunity revealed and released in our space. Rather like the 'fourth plinth' in Trafalgar Square, we are welcoming something new, and fresh. The first will be Anne Petters, a Dresden born glass and light artist (see coventry2021.co.uk/what-s-on/broken-angel/)

Creative responses to destruction and loss are never easy. We can get caught, trapped in our pain. But the truth of our faith is that the deepest loss can issue, with God's grace, into the greatest gift of new life. Without God, it's impossible to imagine how this could be true - but with God, all things are possible, and we can see Christ's resurrection mirrored in our own time. What losses can you bring to God this November, and discover new life, new possibility, new hope

Bishop Christopher honoured by Germany's Federal President

On 1 October, the German Ambassador to the United Kingdom, Andreas Michaelis, presented the Bishop of Coventry, The Rt Revd Dr Christopher Cocksworth, with the Commander's Cross of the Order of Merit of the Federal Republic of Germany, conferred upon him by Federal President Frank-Walter Steinmeier.

Coventry has become a symbol of peace and reconciliation between Germany and the United Kingdom after the Second World War. The city was bombed by the German Luftwaffe during the war. In November 1940, the city centre was largely destroyed, including St. Michael's Cathedral. Since the end of the war, Coventry city and its cathedral have done much to promote not only reconciliation between Germans and Britons, but also peace around the world.

During the award ceremony, Ambassador Michaelis thanked Bishop Christopher for his tireless efforts in the name of reconciliation between Germany and the United Kingdom. He said:

"You are an outstanding bridge-builder, an ardent champion of reconciliation and peace, and a staunch and inspirational campaigner against prejudice and injustice. This accolade represents one of the highest distinctions the Federal Republic of Germany can confer upon individuals. You have nurtured the spiritual legacy of reconciliation through your very close ties with Germany as well as your inspiring dedication to Coventry's twinnings with Kiel and Dresden and to the Community of the Cross of Nails."

In response, Bishop Christopher said:

"It is a very great joy for me to receive this honour from the Federal Republic of Germany. I receive it with thanksgiving for the part that the people of Coventry have played – through the work of the Cathedral, the City Council and a host of other institutional and personal relationships – in the long road to lasting reconciliation between nations that once fought each other in two world wars. I have had the pleasure of meeting a number of Presidents of Germany over my years as Bishop of Coventry and I have a particular respect for President Steinmeier, and I am also grateful for the kindness, hospitality and support of Ambassador Michaelis. I look forward to working for the deepening of relationships between the UK and Germany through Coventry Cathedral, and the International Community of the Cross of Nails."

Tue 30

Andrew the Apostle

On St Andrew's Day we pray for all those who, like Andrew, seek to be the fishers of men. We pray for missionary societies and all who respond to serve the church worldwide.

New members elected to General Synod

On the 14th October 2021, three clergy and three laity from the Diocese of Coventry were elected to serve on General Synod from 2021 - 2026. The General Synod considers and approves legislation affecting the whole of the Church of England, formulates new forms of worship, debates matters of national and international importance, and approves the annual budget for the work of the Church at national level.

The new members of General Synod are:

The Revd Stella Bailey

"Having lived and worshipped in the diocese since I was a teenager, I am now the Vicar of St Nicholas Church Kenilworth. I believe deeply in our interconnectedness and collegial nature so have been involved in various structures and ministries across the diocese since ordination and currently hold the responsibility of Area Dean for Kenilworth and Chair of the DAC. I have a passion for mission and seeking ways to widen our circle to allow the grace of God to flow."

The Revd Jonathan Jee

"I am 58, married to Juliet with 5 adult children and 3 grandchildren (and a 4th on the way). I have been the vicar of St. Paul's in Leamington for 21 years, which (on most days) I think is the best job in the Church of England! I am excited about the way the CofE is taking mission seriously, and releasing resources to reach new people in new places in new ways. I am looking forward to playing my part in those decisions, alongside doing whatever I can to help parish churches to grow healthily."

The Revd Kate Massey

"I have been a Vicar in Nuneaton deanery for almost 7 years, and Dean of Women's Ministry for 6. During my curacy, I served at four very different churches in Coventry diocese: a civic church, a daughter church seeking new vision, a rural church in extended vacancy and a growing suburban church with church plant. My ministerial experience, as well as my own faith journey, mean that I have a deep love for the breadth of the Church of England."

Dr Rachel Atkinson

"I'm Rachel and I am a Lay Leader at St. Marks, Coventry. I am involved in almost every aspect of church life and leadership, including pastoral work, Alpha, connect groups, preaching, and strategic development. Also, I am Principal of St. Marks Academy, which, as well as training young lay leaders for St. Marks and our church plants, is the training provider for Coventry Diocese's mission apprentice scheme. I am very grateful to be elected to General Synod; my heart, and life-long prayer, both for myself and for the Church, is to more closely reflect Jesus, who was full of both 'grace and truth' (John 1:14)."

Gill Frigerio

"I am Gill Frigerio and I am part of All Saint's Emscote in Warwick. I am involved in justice and peace work in my church and am a spiritual companion in the diocese, as well as helping to organise ongoing training for the spiritual companions network. I stood for General Synod because I wanted to ensure there were candidates who were committed to full inclusion of all people in all roles and levels in the church. I was part of a national network of such candidates and am delighted that there was such support for inclusion from electors. I am looking forward to working across synod to see how we can explore consensus and possible ways forward."

Sam Margrave

"I've served for ten years as a General Synod member working to be a strong voice, fighting for Parish Resources, the Poor, and Growth; guided by Isaiah 1:17 "Learn todo right, seek justice. Defend the oppressed. Take up the cause ofthe fatherless; plead the case of the widow".

My focus over the next five years is to be a strong voice working to ensure we have representation from every corner of our community. I will deliver on the promises set out in my election address to end national waste, secure more Parish resources, and to Evangelise England."
